St. Paul Model Missionary Disciple

Rev. Stephen E. Salocks is a priest of the Archdiocese of Boston. A graduate of Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, he received a Bachelor of Science in Biology in 1972. After serving in the United States Army, Father Salocks entered St. John's Seminary Boston Massachusetts, received a Master of Divinity and was ordained a priest on June 14, in 1980. He served as Parochial Vicar at St. Michael's Parish, Hudson, Massachusetts. In preparation for his courses in Sacred Scripture, Father Salocks was enrolled at Harvard Divinity School from 1982 - 1984, studying Hebrew, Greek, Aramaic, as well as German, Latin and Italian. In 1984 Father Salocks began the study of Sacred Scripture at the Pontifical Biblical Institute, Rome, Italy. He was awarded the Licentiate in Sacred Scripture from the Pontifical Biblical Institute in 1987. Father Salocks is a full-time faculty member of St. John's Seminary School of Theology where he is professor of the New Testament. Father serves on various committees and boards, had been the Dean of Students from 1992 - 1997 and from 1997 - 2012 was the Dean of the Faculty. He had been a member of the Society of Biblical Literature for 10 years, a member of the East Coast Conference of Seminary Deans from 1998 - 2012, and since 1988 has been a member of the Catholic Biblical Association. Father Salocks serves as weekend assistant at a number of parishes in the Archdiocese, regularly gives presentations in parishes and conducts clergy workshops in the dioceses of New England.
